

Lois Duncan

Don't Look Behind You

Down a Dark Hall

I Know What You Did Last Summer

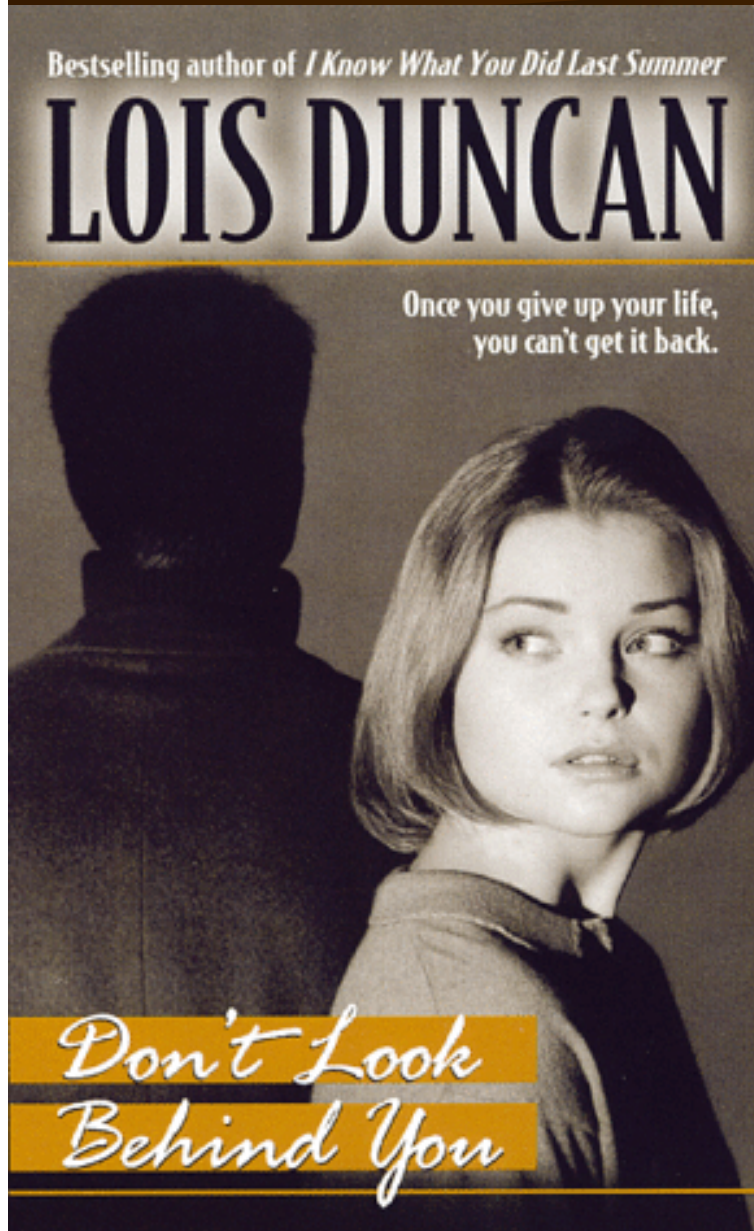

Stranger with my Face

About Lois Duncan

- Born April 28, 1934 in Philadelphia, PA
- First article was "Calling the Girls" at 13
- May 1953 Married
- Divorced at age 27 and moved to New Mexico
 - July 15, 1965 Married to Donald Arquette
 - 1992 "Tragedy Strikes"

Don't Look Behind You

- April chased by gunman in a Camaro
- Month later Daughter Kaitlyn was chased down and shot by a man in a Camaro
- American Library Association Best Book For Young Adults
- She is still currently searching for the killer

I Know What You Did Last Summer

- Starts Different from the Movie
- Constant Suspense
- The Killer is Always hidden
- So Many Suspects and Ideas
- Ends still Without a Killer

Down a Dark Hall

Bestselling author of I Know What You Did Last Summer

LOIS DUNCAN

*Down a
Dark
Hall*

At Blackwood
School for Girls,
the private lessons
might kill you.

- Beginning Sets the Secluded Scene
- Terror in her Dreams Come True
- The Fire
- Kits Death "Almost"

Stranger with my Face

- Can a Person be in Two Places at One Time
- She Starts to investigate for Herself
- She is Afraid of the Truth
- No One Believes that there could be a Double

Themes of Her Books

- Complete Suspense
- Interested Until the End
- Many Options and Questions Left Open
- The Impossible is Almost Always the Answer
- Most Books Describe Her own Lifestyle
- Just When You Think it is All Over, It Starts Again!